Description

This position is for the After-Hours Program. Interns will have the unique opportunity to gain firsthand exposure to child welfare investigations conducted outside of traditional business hours (during evenings, nights, weekends, and holidays). You will gain practical experience as you investigate cases of child abuse and neglect.

Interns will assist with case preparation, documentation, research and administrative tasks. Collaborate with law enforcement, medical professionals, schools, courts,  etc. This is an opportunity for students to experience dynamic work environments with sensitive and confidential client information.
